Instructions

Calas are a traditional New Orleans breakfast dish, and a perfect way to use up leftover rice. This recipe is a quick version with baking powder, since calas are traditionally made with yeast. A very tasty recipe. Enjoy!

1. Beat the eggs, sugar, and vanilla together until bright yellow and foamy. Add water and beat well.
 2. Sift together the flour, baking powder, salt, and nutmeg. Add to egg mixture and beat well with a whisk.
